

Title: "Machine Tools"

Abstract: (no Fig.)

The invention refers to machine tools, in particular for the metal cutting machining of workpieces, for which several machining spindles are provided, and wherein a tool magazine serves for supplying and changing the tools of at least two machining spindles. At least a part of the supplied tools and the tools which have to be changed are arranged in the same plane.